

Quelques Arpents de Neige: December Workshop
December 12-13th, 2008
University of Toronto

Friday, December 12th

12:00 – 1:00pm Lunch, History Department Conference Room, Sidney Smith Hall, 100 St. George Street, 2nd Floor, Room SS 2098 (entrance through SS 2096)

1:00 – 3:00pm Speakers:
Richard Hoffman, “Puzzling out medieval herring from a European perspective”
Jay Young, “In its Natural State: Toronto's Spadina Subway and the Restoration of the Cedarvale-Nordheimer Ravine, 1971-1978”

3:00 – 3:15pm Refreshments

3:15 – 5:15pm Speakers:
Ken Cruikshank and Nancy B. Bouchier, “‘It doesn't bother me...’: Local neighbourhoods, planners and the meaning of environmental justice in an industrial city, 1955-2000”

Ryan O'Connor, “Support Your Ecosystem! Documentaries, Dead Ducks, and the Origins of Pollution Probe”

5:30 – 7:00pm Drinks, Duke of York Pub, 39 Prince Arthur Avenue

7:30pm Dinner, The Boulevard Café, 161 Harbord Street

Saturday, December 13th

9:30 – 10:00 am Light Breakfast, OISE/UT, 252 Bloor Street West, Room 2289

10:00am – 12:00pm Discussion of Readings (readings TBA), OISE Room 2286

Friday lunch and afternoon refreshments and Saturday breakfast courtesy of the Network in Canadian History and Environment (NiCHE)

Quelques Arpents de Neige: Atelier de décembre
12 et 13 décembre 2008
Université de Toronto

Vendredi, 12 décembre

- 12:00 – 13:00 Dîner à la salle de conférence du Département d'histoire :
Sidney Smith Hall, 100 St. George Street, 2^e étage,
Salle SS 2098
(La porte d'entrée se trouve au SS 2096)
- 13:00 – 15:00 Conférenciers:
Richard Hoffman, "Puzzling out medieval herring from a European perspective"
Jay Young, "In its Natural State: Toronto's Spadina Subway
and the Restoration of the Cedarvale-Nordheimer Ravine, 1971-1978"
- 15:00 – 15:15 Collation
- 15:15 – 17:15 Conférenciers:
Ken Cruikshank and Nancy B. Bouchier, "'It doesn't bother me...': Local neighbourhoods, planners and the meaning of environmental justice in an industrial city, 1955-2000"

Ryan O'Connor, "Support Your Ecosystem! Documentaries, Dead Ducks, and the Origins of Pollution Probe"
- 17:30 – 19:00 Apéro, Duke of York Pub, 39 Prince Arthur Avenue
- 19:30 Souper, The Boulevard Café, 161 Harbord Street

Samedi, 13 décembre

- 9:30 – 10:00 Déjeuner léger, OISE/UT, 252 Bloor Street West, Salle 2289
- 10:00 – 12:00 Discussion des lectures communes (textes à confirmer),
OISE, Salle 2286

Le dîner, la collation et le déjeuner sont gracieusement offerts par la Nouvelle initiative canadienne en histoire de l'environnement (NiCHE)