

WRITING HOME & INDIGENOUS THOUGHT

Warren Cariou, "Wastewest: A State of Mind"

Deanna Reder, "Ceremony, Community and the Intertribal Urban"

"WRITING HOME AND INDIGENOUS THOUGHT" brings together Deanna Reder and Warren Cariou for an evening of two talks and a conversation that challenges Western assumptions of Native representation concerning urbanity and human waste. Warren Cariou, author and film documentarist, teaches Aboriginal Literature at the University of Manitoba, and Deanna Reder, co-editor of Troubling Tricksters: Revisioning Critical Conversations, teaches in the First Nations Studies Program and English Department at Simon Fraser University.

Saturday 26 March 2011 • 6:30-8:30pm • 1-05 Business Building
free admission - reception to follow

